

WorldEthicForum

Dear ,

Greetings from the dark parts of our hearts to yours.

During the last Firekeeper Gathering in Summer, the farmers amongst us reminded us that compost is a process, an active verb, a happening, always in flux; rather than anything fixed, finished, known.

This idea seems important as we head into winter here in the Northern Hemisphere and together navigate the many precipices that show up for life right now.

Here we are, as Luea puts it in this interview, 'trusting that small seeds, and cultivating a soil that is nurturing aliveness, that is honouring aliveness and that is multiplying aliveness...could potentially lead to more coherence, more alignment, and therefore also more health and well-being for all forms of life involved.'

The following, are some snapshots of what our version of this has been, as we keep moving, feeding, asking, tending...

With love,

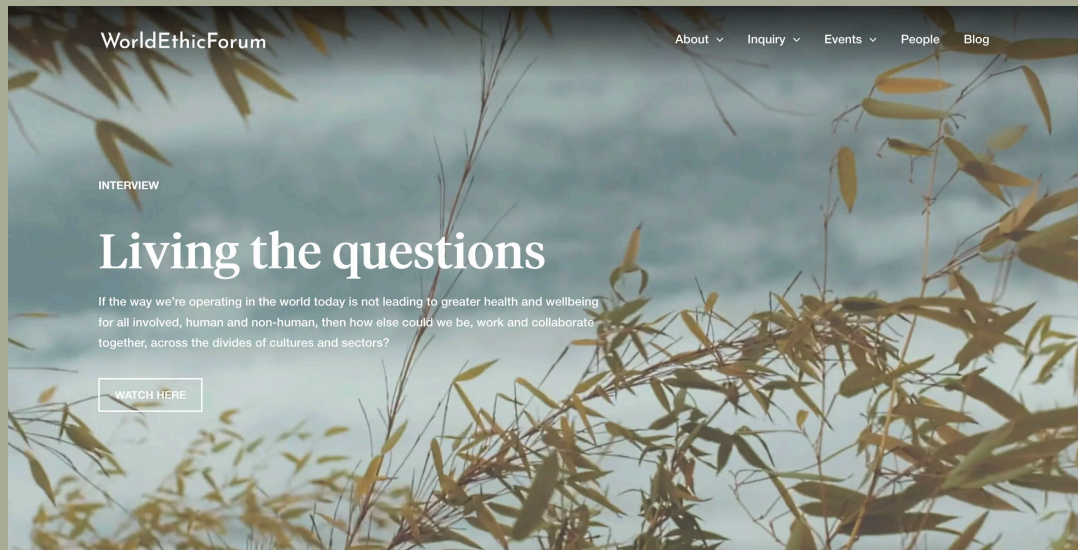

Greta

Our new website

The work we do, is meant to be shared. We want it to be widely accessible, and engage in conversation with those who feel inspired or moved by it. We are excited to share our new website, as a step towards greater clarity and openness.

The website is part of an ongoing communications leap, as we look to reflect better and pass on better, the movements, knowledge and progress of the organism that is the World Ethic Forum. It's far from complete, and like most homes, will probably never be. It's a step forward, that we want to celebrate it with you. Big gratitude to the whole team for the excellent work to get to this point. Do let us know how it resonates with you.

2026 Firekeeper Gathering & Public Event in Nairobi, Kenya

We are thrilled to announce Kaya 2026, a transformative multi-day gathering co-organized by the World Ethic Forum and Nile Journeys. Drawing inspiration from the Kayas of the Mijikenda people, sacred forest sanctuaries that once served as communal and spiritual centres along Kenya's coast, this gathering explores how we can foster and enliven regenerative sanctuary spaces for the times we live in.

Read more

Contributions to Imagining, Designing and Teaching Regenerative Futures

Our team members, Dr. Anaïs Sägeser and Luea Ritter, both contributed chapters to the book Imagining, Designing and Teaching Regenerative Futures: Art-Science Approaches and Inspirations From Around the World (Springer, 2025) edited by Julia Bentz and Jelena Ristić Trajković. This publication brings together voices from around the world committed to reimagining how higher education can nurture ecological, social, and intergenerational well-being.

Read more

News from the network

Pioneering policies and rights-of-nature rules win World Future Policy Awards

Listen to firekeeper and World Future Council CEO Neshan Gunasekera sharing highlights of the eight World Future Policy Award laureates in this episode of the Mongabay podcast.

Listen here

In the Absence of the Ordinary with Francis Weller

The Centre for Climate Psychology invites you to an intimate conversation with Francis Weller, psychotherapist, writer, and grief tender, exploring the themes of his latest book In the Absence of the Ordinary.

This webinar is an invitation to slow down, listen deeply, and enter a shared inquiry into how we might live soulfully when so much of the familiar is falling away.

View Event

WorldEthicForum

Cresta 8
CH 7412 Scharans Switzerland

You received this email because you are a partner organisation, signed up on our website or attended one of our events.

Unsubscribe